LOUAL MISCELLANY.

Coher Charles F. Judson, of the Thirteenth Precinct, early yesterday morning saw three means John J. McCornell's liquor store at Delances, and Colombia-sts. He thought from their actions that they intended to roba neighboring dry-goods store. Soon after, he heard a scuffle in the liquor store, and as he entered he caw William Gardner, age forty, of No. 158 West Twenty-fourth-st., strike a man on the head with a chair. He ordered all the men out of the place and as they did not go ejected them. On reching the sudewalk he was natacked by the three men. The policeman succeeded in throwing his most formidable antagonist to the ground, where-upon one of them. John Smith, cried out, "Now you've got him. Give it to the ——!" Instantly Charles Williams, another of the three, who had already been arrested, brandished a revolver, and, before the policeman could do anything, fired. The ball passed letween the officer's legs. Williams then poluted the weapon directly at Officer Judson's head and pulled the trigger, but the cartridge falled to explode. At this juncture, Officer Berkley, of the Tenth Precinct, who was returning to his home, came up and gave chase to Williams, who was fleeing with the pistol in his hand. After a run of seven blocks, during which Williams twice discharged his weapon, hoping to scare Berkley, he was captured, disarmed and taken to the Delancey Street Police Station, where Judson also took Gardner. Williams said that he was twenty-two years old and that he lived at No. 327 East Ninth-st. The cartridge which failed to explode had on it the mark caused by the fail of the hammer. The two prisoners were taken to the Essex Market Police Court, where Justice Duffy committed Williams for trial in default of $1,000 bail. Gardner was fined $10 and sent to the island for a month. ORDERS TO THEATRE AND HOTEL OWNERS.

ORDERS TO THEATRE AND HOTEL OWNERS.

Inspector Esterbrook yesterday senta notice to William A. Martin, of No. 15 East Thirty-eighthst., the owner of the Windsor Theatre, stating that it would be necessary to build a fire-proof wall between the stage and auditorium, and provide additional skylights in the roof over the stage. He also senta notice to the Third Avenue Raliroad Company, owners of the Mount Morris Theatre, directing that two self-acting skylights be placed in the roof over the stage in that theatre.

James E. Shaw, owner of the Grand Union Hotel, is required by a notice sent from the Building Bureau yesterday to place two lines of fire-escapes on the Fark-ave, front of the hotel, and also to erect fire-escapes on the Forty-second-st, and Forty-first-st, ends of the building. Doorways are ordered to be out through some of the partitions on the second ficer. The Great Northern Hotel, No. 268 Bowery, is owned by Jacob Bookman, of No. 9 East Sixty-second-st. He was directed yesterday to crect fire-escapes on the front of the building. Mr. Shaw expressed great surprise that fire-escapes should be ordered on his building. He sand that the inspectors remarked when they made the examination that it was really the only safe hotel in the city. It has eleven stairways, with four brick partition walls, and apparently has ample means of egress in case of a fire in any part of the building. Mr. Shaw thought that the order would be rescinded. If not he would contest it.

William A. Martin, owner of the Windsor Theatre, sand that he had hardly finished altering the building to meet the views of Inspector Esterbrook. It had a fire-proof wall between the stage and auditorium, skylights, etc., and as he had not received the order he declared that there must be some mistake about it.

ELECTRIC WIRES UNDER THE STREETS.

The Committee on Ferries and Franchises of the Aldermen presented to the Board yesterday a report on the petition of the New-York Electric Lines Company for permission to lay electric wires under the streets. The report recommended that the petition of the company should be granted, its operations, however, to be subject to the provisions of the ordinance regulating the laying of anderground wires. It was resolved that the company should pay icto the City Treasury, within ten days after taking up the pavement, for every 1,000 feet of trench, the maximum sum required of licenses under any general or special ordinance of the Common Council authorizing the laying of electric conductors under the streets of the city. Alderman Waite moved that the resolution cranting the tranchises should be adopted. This was strongly opposed by Alderman O'Connor, Fitzpatrick and Wells, Alderman O'Connor wished to know who were the officers of the company and what was the capital of the concern. He was unalterably opposed to giving away practically such valuable franchises without the city being suitably remunerated. Alderman Fitzpatrick believed that it would become one of the nost daugerous monopolies ever known in this city. The report was recommitted to the committee. ELECTRIC WIRES UNDER THE STREETS.

was as perfect as it could be made. The committee will present to the Mayor a copy of the proposed law as finally agreed upon. The aims of the law are to make buildings of all kinds in the city safe and durable, and yet to fulfil every requirement of economy in building. Under it the inspector or superintendent of buildings will exercise fewer judicial powers, and will in the main perform only executive duries. The law will make clear what heretofore has been left to the discretion of the inspector.

THE JANUARY CORN " CORNER."

THE JANUARY CORN "CORNER."

The culmination of the attempt in Chicage to make a "corner" in January corn was a subject yesterday of considerable comment among representatives of grain houses at the Produce Exchange. Early in January Chicago dealers began to put up the market on the strength of reports that there was a much smaller supply of corn that would grade No. 2 than was generally supposed. Since then there have been loud complaints against the State grain inspectors for undergrading. It was asserted that January corn would go up to 80 cents at Chicago before the end of the mouth, and that the effect would be to send up prices at this market in the same ratio. The price in Chicago, however, did not reach 70 cents, and at no time has the New-York market sympathized with the advance. The Chicago market "got a black eye" on Mouday, when January and February corn declined 2 cents a bushel, and yesterday there was a further decline of 2 cents a bushel. How independent New-York is of Chicago is shown by the fact that February corn was quoted here at 67% and at Chicago at 54. As it costs 20 cents a bushel for freight from Chicago to New-York, the price would not have been less than 74 cents if the New-York market followed that of Chicago.

MR. FIELD ON CODIFICATION.

MR. FIELD ON CODIFICATION.

David Dudley Field gave an informal address last evening to the members of the Law Reform Society in the chapel of the University building. With the exception of George Ticknor Curtis, who presided, the fifty odd persons present were almost all very young lawyers. Mr. Field's announced subject was the "History of Codifications in New York State." Aside from a brief review of the manner and circumstances under which the Codes of Civil and Criminal Procedure and the Penal Code came into existence, the address consisted chiefly of arguments to show that the Civil Code should also be made a part of the statute law of the State. In regard to the attacks upon the Penal Code, Mr. Field said that it was the expression of the will of the people of the State, and when that will should show itself as medicing any change in regard to the Sunday laws or other parts of the Code, he should be glad to frame such changes. He also said that he would be the last to object to any proper amendment to the Civil Code to make it more perfect. Mr. Field was all istenced to with close attention, and after he had closed there was some discussion, the speakers favoring the adoption of the Civil Code.

THE SOCIETY FOR SUPPRESSING VICE.

The ninth annual meeting of the New-York Society for the Suppression of Vice was held last evening in Association Hall. It was the first annual meeting of that society at which ladies have been invited and the hall contained about an equal number of each sex. On the platform sat Samuel Colpate, the president of the society, Anthony Comstock, the secretary; Kiliaen Van Rensselaer, treasurer; William E. Dodge, jr., vice-president; William C. Beecher, Lewis L. Delaffeld, and the Rev. Dr. Shearer. Mr Colgate made a brief address in introducing Mr. Comstock, who read a report of the work done during the year. The report was received with applause. The treasurer's report, read by Mr. Van Reusselear, showed expenditures of $10,014-15 during the year, with a deficit of $10,014-15 during the year. GREAT PROMISES, BUT SMALL RESULTS.

In the estimation of Henry C. Allen. of the District-Attorney's office, a great public good was accomplished when Bernard O'Rourke, Thomas Gully and Thomas Geary were indicted just before the last election on charges of violating the Election laws. O'Rourke was described as the leader of an organized band of Republican "repeaters." It was said that the most wholesale frands would have been perpetrated in the VIIIth Assembly District had it not been for the vigilance of Mr. Allen and the employment of several of Pinkerton's detectives. The information was given that O'Rourke was one of the foremost men in the Republican conneils and that he had more "influence" in his district than John J. O'Brien himself. Sheets of desultory conversations had by detectives in cast side bar-rooms were exhibited to the reporters and the blank indictments were shown that were to be obtained on this "testimony." Since the election was held the indicted men, through their counsel, have made earnest efforts to secure a hearing. The cases have several times been placed upon the calendar of the Court of General Sessions. But the assistants who appeared for the District-Attorney have never been prepared with testimony that warranted the prosecution of the cases. Colonel O'Byrne, who is acting in the place of District-Attorney McKeon, yesterday discharred the bail in the case of O'Rourke, Gully and Geary, giving as a reason that "the people are at present unable to procure the attendance of an important witness, and the defendants demand a trial." This is regarded as practically the end of the cases. GREAT PROMISES, BUT SMALL RESULTS.

MAYOR PETRY'S FIRST MESSAGE.

The Common Council of Long Island City held a meeting at the City Hall yesterlay afternoon. Mayor Petry sent his message to the Board. He stated that owing to the confusion at present existing in the financial condition of the city, he was unable to give a satisfactory statement in detail of its finances. He said, however, that the Police Fund was in arrears about $60,000 and the School Fund, about $35,000; that the floating indebteduess, including metured coupons, was about $100,000, and that the Water Fund was in arrears about $30,000. Making in all a total of $225,000. There was also a large sum claimed by Queens County from the city for arrears due of State and county taxes. The Mayor recommended that the Common Council should adopt such measures as would compel the prompt payment to the Treasurer of all moneys accraing to the city from any and every source. He advised funding the indebtedness of the city at a low rate of interest by permission of the Legislature, and insisted that no expenditures ought to be made in excess of the fund lawfully applicable. An attempt was made by Alderman Rassiga at the meeting to fill the vacancy in the Board caused by the recent death of Alderman James R. Bennett, but it was unsuccessful. MAYOR PETRY'S FIRST MESSAGE.

MCGLOIN'S LAST HOPE GONE.

The Court of Appeals yesterday reaffirmed the decision of the lower courts in the case of Michael McGloin, who killed Louis Hanier, the French restaurant keeper, while robbing his place. The decision of the Court was telegraphed to this city by Mctiloin's counsel. Soon after the reception of the news, Warden Finn visited the prisoner in his cell in "Murderers' Row," in the Tombs. "I have bad news for you McGloin," said the Warden. "The Court of Appeals has approved the finding of the lower couris."

"The Court of Appeals has approved the finding of the lower courts."

McGiom endeavored to appear composed, but in spite of his exertions the tears started to his eyes and his lips quivered. "Well, I am not disappointed," he said. "I expected as much. I will try to bear it like a man." The Warden spoke a few more comforting words. McGloin thanked him for his kindness and the interest that he had shown in hun, and then turned and walked to his cell.

Pasquals Majone, the Italian who shot his wife and mother-in-law, and who is also under sentence of death, has felt a warm friendship for McGloin. When he was told that the latter's last hope was gone he broke out into passionate exclamations of grief and cried, "Poor Mike! I don't care for myself, but it is too bad that he should be hanged."

URGING A NEW BUILDING LAW.

A committee of architects, builders and manufacturers of building materials will call upon Mayor Edson to-day, to ask his influence in behalf of a proposed building law. Among the members of the members were appointed by the Mechanics' Exchange and the Architectural Iron Manufacturers' change and the Architectural Iron Manufacturers' change and the Architectural Iron Manufacturers' echange and the Architectural Iron Manufacturers' extentions. They, in company with Inspector Esterbrook and a few architects, have been studying the building law which Mr. Esterbrook prepared about a year ago. Several evenings each week, for nearly a month, have been devoted to remodeling and amending Mr. Esterbrook's bulk, and at the last meeting on Monday aicht; was decided that the proposed law was as perfect as it could be made. The committee will present to the Mayor a copy of the proposed law was as perfect as it could be made. THE STEERAGE PASSENGER WAR.

The reduction in steerage passage rates made by the steamship lines not in the North Atlantic or Continental conferences, on Monday, was not met yesterday by a further reduction by the associated companies, as was anticipated. A member of the North Atlantic Conference said yesterday: "We shall not pay any atten ion to the action of the outside lines; you may depend upon it the conference lines will not make any further reduction. We do not care for the competition of the outside lines. The fact is, there seemed to be a clamor for a reduction in immigrant passage rates. I presumes that the reduction will not make a great difference in our profits, as we shall probably carry more passengers than we otherwise would have done. We don't fear that the Warren, Dominion and other com sames are going to take away all of our traffic by the reduction they have made. We believe that passengers, whether steerage or cabio, will patronpassengers, whether steerage or cabin, will patronize the long-established lines which are members of the conferences, because we can offer the best accommodations and the greatest comfort. Our vessels do not carry cattle.

TWO QUAILS IN SEVEN MINUTES.

The sun, which had been obscured for two days, came out yesterday and cast its cheerful warmth on the front porch of "Gabe" Case's tavern. Within the tavern all was gay; there were happiness, rum and Old Holland gin. The place was filled with an unusual crowd of speculators in qualit, who were devoted enough to want to put their money on Mr. Walcott's stoaneh—an act of kindness which the quail-cater no doubt appreciated. When the air within had become about as redolent of gin and tobacco as it could be without breaking up into currents, Mr. Walcott sat down to his twenty-fifth dose of quails. He made the best time on record, botting the b'rds in just seven minutes—which was an improvement on the preceding day's time of half a minute. Then he tickled his palate with a little lettuce, bread and a bottle of pepsin. The spectators then got into mud-scows and silently rowed to Macomb's Dam Bridge just as the moon swept over the Harlem, where, swinging wide of their moorings, lay twofother scows. The elevated road restored the quail-cater and his friends to the bosoms of their families. TWO QUAILS IN SEVEN MINUTES.

THE FUND FOR DR. BELLOWS'S FAMILY. THE FUND FOR DR, BELLOWS'S FAMILY.

Soon after the death of the Rev. Dr. Bellows a fune of $50,000 was raised in his congregation. In speaking of the fand last night, J. H. Rhodes, president of the Board of Trustees of All Souls' Church, said to a recorter of THE TRIBUNE: "The money has been sabscribed, but has not been invested. It is probable that there will be a Board of Trustees appointed for the purpose of investing the money. I do not know where the principal will go at the death of Mrs. Bellows, but it will in all probability be divided between her children." There were many subscribers to the fund, and it is said that one of the largest was Peter Cooper. The Rev. Mr. Hornbrooke has not given an answer to the recent call extended to him by the church.

TO WORK ON FULL TIME NEXT WEEK. To Work on Full Time Next Week.

The coal companies agreed, yesierday, to work on full time next week. The proposal is understood to have come from the Philadelphia and Reading Company, which asserted that the stock of coal on some of its local lines was not sufficient to meet the demand. Some of the other companies were opposed to working on full time, but a majority of the companies agreed to the plan. The Lehigh Valley and the Lackawaina companies are reported to have objected to the proposal on the general ground that it was not necessary at present to mine more than three days a week.

The proposal made by the Reading Company affects only one week. Mining will be suspended three days in the present week, and after next week three days each week until the companies make a new arrangement.

MR. DODGE'S STORY ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

A large audience gathered last night in the Union Tabernacle in Thurty-fifth-at., tear Broadway, to hear William E. Dodge lecture on his experiences of over sixty years in New-York. It was an appreciative audience, and Mr. Dodge was often interrupted with laughter and applause. The City Hall was of marble only on three sides, the speaker stated, because the architect said that if the north side was made of cheap stone, it would save $15,000, and the building was so far up town that no one would see the back of it.

Professor William G. Sumner, of Yale College, delivered a lecture last night before the Brooklyn Revenue Reform Ciub, at the Long Island Historical Society Building. His subject was, "The Forgotten Man." Professor Sumner said that the forgotten man was the simple honest man, who carned hishring by good hard work, paid his debts, kept his contracts and educated his children. He was passed by and foreotten because he did his duty patiently and without complaint. On him rested all the burdens engendered by panpers, vagrants, spe dibrifts, criminals and jobbers. All legislation which tended to relieve the weak, the vicious and the negligent of the consequences of their faults threw these consequences upon the forgotten man.

DEFENDING MISS BURR'S CONDUCT.

The examination of witnesses in behalf of the propouents of the will of the late Sarah Burr was continued yesterday before Surrogate Rollins. Mrs. Catherine Bloomfield, an old friend of Miss Burr, testified that Miss Burr was in the liabit of wearing a diamond pin and a handsome gold watch and chain. She also owned other valuable jeweiry. When witness visited Miss Burr she was usually served with refreshmeats and the refreshmeats very early with the rest was was usually served with refreshmeats and the refreshmeats were served in a handsome way. Miss Burr once tool the witness that if the public after her death got all see had it ought to be satisfied. Sarah W. Thorne, who had known Miss Burr for a long time, said that she always neat and tidy. The Rev. David S. Douge said that he ad known Miss Burr may years. He had often conversed with ner in regard to charitable institutions, in which she was very much interested. He never noticed anything in her conversation or conduct which to him seemed to be in the least degree irrational. Jessie Bloomfield testified that she had for many years visited Miss Burr two or toree times a year. Miss Burr always asked her about the different members of her family, and always dressed in a ladylike manner. She was extremely neat and tidy in her dress. The witness often was served with refreshments of different kinds on handsome othing and sliver dishes. On cross examination the witness adoutted that she could not remember having any refreshments at Miss Burr's house since 1869. She never saw any irrational conduct in Miss Burr. William F. Butter, the librarian of the New-York Society Library, testified that he had been in the habit of calling on Miss Burr once a year to collect her dues to the library. Miss Burr once a year to collect her due to the library. Miss Burr was always properly dressed, Eleanor Bloomfield blentified a number of articles of French china as having been in use in Miss Burr's house. The examination of witnesses in behalf of the

MR. VANDERBILT NOT SICK.

It was reported in Wall Street yesterday that Wilmam H. Vanderbiit was seriously sick. It was said that he had, on account of his illness, falled to attend the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Nickel Plate Italiroad at Cleveland yesterday. The reports are generally beliaved to have been started for stock-jobing purposes. An intimate friend of Mr. Vanderbiit said last evening to a Tainunk reporter: "You can a vo yourself the trouble of seeing Mr. Vanderbiit, for there is no truth in any report of his sickness. I have just come from him and he is in excellent spirits. He has a little cold and he did not go out of the house to-day. But if necessary he will go out to-morrow to attend to business. Mr. Vanderbiit did not expect to go to the Nickel Plate meeding at Cieveland, and he has postponed no trip on account of his coid."

WHY MRS. GREGORY WAS INDIGNANT.

Thomas Gregory, an employe in Thompson's steel works at the toos of Warren-at. Jersey City, attempted to drown himself between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning. He was resented with difficulty by Micanel Hannon and John Cassidy and taken home. When the party reached the house and woke Gregory's wife, she became very indignant and soundly bersted Hannon and Cassidy for not permitting her husband to carry cut his nutries.
